DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 10-31, drawn to a method of utilizing a composition as a slimming agent, classified in class 424, subclass 401.
- II. Claims 32-37, drawn to a method of preparation of a formulation comprising a cosmetically acceptable medium a lipoamino acid, classified in class 514, subclass 561.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have different functions. The invention of Group I is directed to directed to a method of using a composition as a slimming agent. A variety of compositions can serve such a function such as a composition comprising a neuropeptide inhibitor. The invention of Group II is directed to the formulation of a composition having lipoamino acid and a cosmetically acceptable medium. The formulation used in the method of Group I can be made by a variety of different methods. For instance, the compound of Formula I can be made by partial hydrolysis or conversely by total hydrolysis, i.e. Formula I may be made by a variety of methods. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: glycine, alanine serine, aspartic acid, glutamic acid, and sarcosine.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: fatty substances, organic solvents, thickeners, gelling agents, emollients, antioxidants, opacifiers, stabilizers, foaming agents, perfumes, emulsifiers, fillers, sequestrants, chelators, preservatives, chemical screening agents, inorganic screening agents, essential oils, coloring matter, pigments, hydrophilic, lipophilic active agents, and humectans.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: collagen, elastin, fish flesh protein, fish gelatin, keratin, casein, cereal, flower, fruit proteins, soya bean, sunflower, oats, wheat, maize, barley, potato, lupin, field bean, sweet almond, kiwi, mango, apple, chlorella (unicellular algae), pink algae, yeasts, and silk.

The species are independent or distinct because the compounds have different structural and functional characteristics.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 10, 25-30, and 32 A telephone call was made to Linda Russell on 09/18/2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
